Recipe for: Your Creativity Cake!

Method:

First you will need Inspiration. Look around you; Inspiration is everywhere! You only need a dash of it for this recipe. Allow it to drop into your lap! Maybe you will find it in the supermarket or at lunch with a friend. Perhaps it will seek out your ear on the winds of a casual conversation you will hear! It may disguise itself in your favourite movie or song but it is always there and very powerful. You will know when you find it because you will start to tingle all over and you will feel a feeling of excitement, aliveness and possibility. You will most definitely need this ingredient for your recipe or else it will not even happen! So go out there and get some- you just need a dash!

Once you have your dash of Inspiration, come back to the creativity kitchen and add a handful of Courage! You will find this ingredient in the storehouse of your heart. You may not even know it is there... but it is! It is in all of our heart storehouses. When Courage mixes with Inspiration we have a great foundation for our creativity cake! Adding Courage gives the cake its shape and substance. You will need a full handful of Courage for this recipe! They say Courage comes in a twin pack with fear. A full packet of Courage always comes with its twin fear but you will find Courage's flavour will cut through fear's heavy taste. Sift out some, but not all of the fear (some of the flavour is there) but make sure there is enough Courage in your handful as a cake with not enough Courage will not rise!

Our next ingredient is the binding agent; 2 handfuls of Faith. This ingredient is essential to keep all the ingredients together, so the cake won't crumble. You can find Faith all over the world and each source has a distinct flavour and colour. Find your unique source of Faith and get yourself 2 handfuls to throw into the mix!

Now you will need a bag of Commitment, this makes up the body of the cake. We are halfway through our recipe at the moment so this is the pivotal point between getting a nice substantial cake and a flat pancake! We need a whole bag of Commitment from deep down in your gut-pantry. (Your gut-pantry holds many bags of commitment that you can dig deep into at anytime). For this recipe we need one whole bag. Stir it thoroughly through your mix.

Now for my favourite ingredient; a sprinkling of Humour so the mixture can lighten up! This will allow it to rise higher as it bakes. Stir through.

Now your cake is ready for the oven which must be set at 20deg Risk, 60deg Doubt and 100deg Presence.

So long as you have the right oven gloves and cake tin there will be no worries about the Risk factor. Likewise; there may be times when Doubt makes the cake look like it's never going to cook or rise, but that is when Presence will overcome. As long as you make sure your cake is right in the centre of the oven, it will cook evenly and rise well. You will feel excitement as you watch the whole process of the cake growing from its original state as batter to your delicious creativity cake!

When the bell goes and your cake springs back when lightly touched, you know it is ready to come out of the oven.

Here is where you need patience though because you need to let your cake rest and cool down so it is ready for the icing! Yummy! For this you will need 1 spoonful each of Fun, Joy, Beauty and Love. Mix all together and spread over your creativity cake! Once done, serve to the world! ENJOY!!!
